Ike Warned Rhee of Trouble After Election Mess

NEW DESERT INN OWNERS Samuel Ficks and George Alexander today announced plans for a 1,600 space parking facility to be added to their already announced plan for a multi-level hotel on the present Desert Inn property. In addition, street planning was also a major item of today's announcement. (Desert Sun Photo).

NEW DESERT INN PLANS REVEALED

An eight-story luxury hotel that would climb the foothills of San Jacinto Mountain from the grounds of the Desert Inn is envisioned by George Alexander and Samuel Ficks, the two new owners of the tradition-vested hotel.

At the same time, plans for a series of negotiations that may result in major revisions of downtown parking and street planning in Palm Springs are made evident in the announcement.

FOUR ARCHITECTURAL firms are presently engaged in design ideas for the proposed $4,000,000 hotel, which has a planned 300 rooms and a 1,600 space parking facility.

The Daily Desert Sun, in its story on the announced sale of the Desert Inn, which only this week cleared escrow, said that Alexander and Ficks planned to construct a multiple story building on the Desert Inn site, and would put the vital Belardo Road through.

BUT NEWLY announced are plans by the developers to start construction of the $4-million dollar building by next spring, with construction taking about a year and a half.

Although Palm Springs has an ordinance against going into mul-

Serving with Rightmire will be Alvin L. Watkins, first vice-president; James S. Moore, second vice-president; William Rahmning, third vice-president; John Rose, tallwister; Leo Satter, lion tamer; Ernest Hirschbein, secretary-treasurer; and new board members Edwin Smith and Joseph Kelly.

Three More Today

Schools Continue To Host Public

Frances Stevens elementary school here held its annual open house celebration this afternoon, and Cathedral City elementary school and Katherine Finchey school here are slated to hold open house at 7 p.m. today.

The observances are part of the statewide public schools week celebrations.

FEATURES OF THE open house programs are presentations by pupils, and tours of the various classrooms, with teachers and administrators on hand to discuss the school programs with the open house guests.

day, Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School and Cielo Vista school held open house, featuring programs and displays.

OPEN HOUSE schedule for the week ends Thursday when Palm Springs High School conducts its observance beginning at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Charles Webster, high school principal, announced all teachers will be in their classrooms to meet parents, and administrative offices and special purpose rooms will be open for inspection.

Open house from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Cathedral City school multipurpose room tonight will begin with fifth and sixth grade pupils chorus under the direction of Margaret Wilcox.

Voters Give Surprises In Primaries

Kennedy Tops Vice President In Write-ins

United Press International

Voters produced a few surprises in showing presidential nomination preferences at primaries in two eastern states Tuesday.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, a favorite son, had a 9-5 edge over Vice President Richard M. Nixon in balloting in the Massachusetts primary, where candidates' names must be written in by the voter.

KENNEDY HAD no opposition for the Democratic slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention, nor did Nixon have opposition in the Republican primary where delegates were chosen.

But in the Pennsylvania primary, Nixon rolled up a sizeable vote, 822,469 with 7,806 of the state's 9,013 precincts counted.

The vice president's vote was compared with President Eisenhower's 951,932 in the 1956 presidential primary. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York got 7,611 write-in votes and Kennedy got 2,137 in the Republican column also as write-ins.

THERE WERE NO presidential candidates names on the Democratic ballot. With 7,949 precincts counted, voters gave Kennedy 133,364 write-in votes, Adlai E. Stevenson 19,538, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota 9,569, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 5,412, and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas 1,687. Nixon had 6,748 votes in the Democratic primary.

Massachusetts' voter turnout was disappointing with less than five per cent of the 2,640,000 registered voters showing. Top state Democrats had sought a big write-in vote for Kennedy, and Democratic Chairman Pat Lynch had predicted he would top the 270,000 write-in votes given Eisenhower in 1952.

THE HOTEL ITSELF and parking facility would only be the start of the site development program. Also planned is a split-level shopping center, with one group exclusively designed to go with the luxury hotel and another group for medium and lower economic groups.

The estimated cost of the entire site development is in excess of $9,000,000, over a period of three years.

De Gaulle Ends New York Stay

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle took off for the Golden Gate today into a rain-heavy sky that immediately hid from his view the Manhattan canyons that Tuesday rang with cheers of welcome for him.

LIONS WILL PLAN DISTRICT CONFAB IN MEETING HERE

The Lions Club luncheon tomorrow noon at the Chi Chi will be devoted to discussion and plans for the forthcoming annual 4-L-4 District Convention to be held at the Riviera Hotel April 29-May 1, it was announced today by Lion Club President Tom Kieley.

An invitation to all wives of Lion Club members was extended by Kieley to attend the luncheon since they will be acting as official hostesses for the convention and should be aware of all plans.

Convention arrangements for a record turnout of over 500 Lions from Riverside, San Diego and part of Los Angeles counties are under the general chairmanship of A. Gardiner.

Jewish Center Rezoning Goes Before Council

A long discussion is expected tonight at the regular session of the City Council, during the hearing on the Palm Springs Master plan which will be up for council approval at that time.

Planning Commission matters will dominate the meeting which has been called for 8 p.m., and will include another controversial matter — the rezoning of land for the Jewish Community Center.

Mayor Frank Bogert will be asked to appoint a replacement for the vacancy left by new Councilman Harry Paisley, and the commission has asked that an architect be appointed to the position.

Routine council action on ordinances, bills, and miscellaneous items are also scheduled for the meeting.

Racial Violence Cost Said Heavy

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI) — Two days of racial violence quelled by tough police action in this Gulf Coast resort city cost retail merchants as much as half their normal trade, a United Press International survey showed today.

The tourist and convention industry apparently was not hit, but one official speculated it might be crippled for the summer season if Negroes make new attempts to integrate the 28-mile public beach here.

Southland Hit By Heavy Rains

Unexpectedly heavy rains drenched Southern California today, flooding streets, triggering a multitude of traffic accidents, threatening stores and rupturing water mains.

THE DRIVER OF THIS Renault sedan, 22-year-old Richard Constantino of Joshua Tree, was thrown 10 feet from his car and received head injuries after his south-bound car skidded on rain-slick Indian Avenue near the Racquet Club at approximately 9:30 a.m. today, and hit a northbound station wagon driven by Eddie Sydney Johnson Jr., of Palm Springs. Constantino was taken to Desert

Hospital where x-ray examinations continued near press time. A witness told police Johnson pulled to the east side of the road—his right—in an attempt to avoid the skidding car, but the small sedan swerved diagonally across the road as Constantino attempted to regain control of the vehicle. The little sedan had skidded twice off the west side of the road, an observer reported.

PETITION DRIVE CONTINUES IN CC

CATHEDRAL CITY — Although a sufficient number of names of property owners have been secured on petitions for incorporation of Cathedral City, signing will continue for a week or so, it was reported today.

Claude S. Cobb, acting chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's incorporation committee, said that the required 25 per cent of property owners and 25 per cent of the land evaluation of the 329 acres planned for incorporation have been obtained.

IT IS EXPECTED the incorporation will be on a fall ballot. Meanwhile, Walter B. Steele, director of the Taxpayers' Association which is opposing the incorporation, charged that the Chamber is spending its members' money "in an effort to raise taxes in a small area so that bond issues will be necessary to support the city government."

In a press release to The Desert Sun, Steele said there are

Auxiliary Sets Election Date

DESERT HOT SPRINGS —The Desert Hot Springs Auxiliary of the Angel view Crippled Children's Foundation, will hold its annual election meeting 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, it was announced today.

Nominations will be received from the floor. A tea, hosted by Mrs. Berdine Pack, will follow the business meeting.

The installation luncheon will be held in May.

Federal Judge Disqualifies Self

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Judge F. Dickinson Lettis, 85, disqualified himself today from presiding over a trial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa but his replacement immediately turned down a move for further postponement of the case.

Judge Joseph R. Jackson, a retired member of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, took over for Lettis, listened to arguments on behalf of Hoffa that the trial be delayed, then ruled: "Motion denied."

Korea Chief Steps Down After Riots

Eisenhower Reveals Warning Issued on Vote Irregularities

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower revealed today he had warned Korean President Syngman Rhee that trouble might come from reported irregularities in last month's South Korean elections.

But he denied any suggestion that the United States had intervened in that country's internal affairs.

IN SEOUL, today, fresh demonstrations demanding a quick clean-up of the old regime broke out in scattered towns across Korea tonight despite President Syngman Rhee's resignation.

Foreign Minister Huh Chung took over the shattered government as acting president and promised prompt elections.

IT WAS ENOUGH to send home most of the huge mobs which forced Rhee out of office. But demonstrations took place in Pohang, Chungmu, Kimchow and a few other small towns as a final gasp of hatred.

Mostly the anger of tonight's demonstrators was directed against hated local officials or members of Rhee's one-time power base. The mobs burned their homes but there were no clashes with police.

EISENHOWER PAID high tribute to Rhee as a tremendous patriot who can truthfully be called the father of his country. But he said that as Rhee grew older the Korean President had no doubt made some mistakes.

Eisenhower mentioned in this connection the irregularities in the balloting March 15 when Rhee was elected to a fourth term. Rioting started soon thereafter.

Eisenhower said he still had every intention of making his scheduled June 22 visit to South Korea.

IN REJECTING ANY suggestion of American intervention in Korean affairs, the President said the United States had nothing to do with inciting the bloody riots which left an estimated 150 dead and many injured in protests against the election results.

Also in Washington, diplomatic sources said today the United Nations may be called upon to supervise new elections in South Korea.

Final Divorce Papers Filed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Actress Anna Kashfi filed final divorce papers Tuesday to seek an official end of her marriage to actor Marion Brando.

No Berlin Crisis Seen at Summit By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today he does not believe that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will push the Berlin issue to the point of crisis at next month's summit meeting in Paris.

Eisenhower told his news conference that Khrushchev probably is playing for time, hoping that elections in the United States and West Germany may result in developments which would help his position on the Berlin and German issues.

The President said specifically that Khrushchev probably is hoping that new elections in West Germany will bring closer relations between that pro-American country and East European Communist countries such as Poland.

For that reason, the President continued, he does not expect Khrushchev to renew his ultimatum to the allies to get out of West Berlin within a certain period or face a blockade of their position there.

Eisenhower said Khrushchev's recent speech in Baku, in which the Soviet leader renewed his demands that the allies quit Berlin and sign a separate treaty with Communist East Germany, probably should not be taken seriously.

Meets With Lawyers

Chessman Seeks Legal Loopholes

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Convict-author Caryl Chessman, 38, met with his three attorneys today to search for some possible remaining loophole to prevent his execution Monday morning.

The attorneys, George T. Davis, Rosalie Asher and A. L. Wirin, admitted the task would be difficult. The convict has sidestepped the San Quentin gas chamber eight times by grasping at straws during a 12-year legal battle to escape death for the crimes of kidnapping, robbery and rape.

GOV. EDMUND G. Brown, who granted Chessman's eighth reprieve just hours before he was scheduled to die in February, said Tuesday he was powerless to act again.

Attorney Davis charged that Los Angeles authorities were withholding testimony which could save Chessman, who was convicted there in 1948 as the Red Light Bandit responsible for terrorizing couples in lovers' lanes.

The attorney said he would file a new appeal this week with the California Supreme Court. He claimed to have new evidence to support his belief that Chessman was not the Red Light Bandit.

AT SAUSALITO, a butane torch was ignited Tuesday night on a mountain west of here to protest the scheduled execution of Caryl Chessman next Monday.

About 40 persons including children and some who wore black arm bands braved heavy rains on Wolfback Ridge for the demonstration. The three-foot flame went out six times before it finally stayed ignited in a metal bowl 12 feet off the ground.

Field, Montgomery In Warm 'Seesaw'

The most successful, the most lasting of drama — and opera, painting, poetry and other arts — have been tragedies, not comedies. You may add "Two for the Seesaw" to your present list along side such timeless venerables as "La Boheme" and "Romeo and Juliet" and rest assured that it will be there for some time to come.

ITS STORY IS the most basic of all love stories. But the way William Gibson tells it — and the way George Montgomery and Amy Field deliver it — place it in the category of exceptional drama. I say Montgomery and Field because that's the way the billing runs. What I should say is Field and Montgomery because the young lady gave last night's first show audience one of the most thoroughly perceptive, most completely sympathetic readings to come off in the Ferrall's Playhouse, at Deep Well this season.

CAST AS GITTLE Mosca, Miss Field captures at once (almost as if she WAS Gittel) the innate generosity, the warm frankness of the character.

I suppose that sometime in every man's life there comes a woman of the caliber of Gittel. There had to be for Author Gibson. Some men keep them and treasure them and that is simply a love story. Others let them slip away from them and that is a tragedy.

THE ROLE Miss Field played is the crux role for "Seesaw." The play itself is well done largely because of her handling of her assignment.

THAT ISN'T TO say that Montgomery wasn't effectual. He was, greatly. In Act III, when he returns at noon to prepare lunch for Gittel, bedridden with her ailment, there is an air of supercharged tenderness hanging over the entire stage. This is a new emotion on Montgomery, for this viewer at least, and I must say it created a beautiful moment in the play. Throughout, particularly in the argumentative situations, Montgomery took Miss Field by the hand, as it were, and led her in and out of those frightening but greatly vital segments.

IF THERE IS to be a fault, it would have to rest with the pacing of the play. It had a late start last night and the intermissions were much too long but there really should be some lightening of the action. The Even at that, you couldn't have been conscious of a tedious dragging. That's because "Two for the Seesaw" — the way this pair do it — has no trace of the tedious. It's a warm and beautiful story and it has its place in the hearts of the audience.

—George Laine.

FUN IN THE SUN

Theaters Can't Live On Art

By GEORGE LAINE
Palm Springs theater-goers, who have seen two houses of spoken drama slip away from them since the first of the year, may lose the third and last vestige of theater — the Ferrall's Playhouse at Deep Well.

The announcement, not in so many words, came today from Mike and Marrian Ferrall, who pulled their last-minute theater up by the bootstraps just 15 weeks ago when it seemed certain they couldn't do it.

TODAY, THE FERRALLS assessed the picture gloomily, found that they'd produced 15 dramatic efforts with the 16th currently running in their Deep Well theater but that their artistic successes didn't compensate for their financial failures.

In a way, the season wasn't really such a desperate failure. "We've been almost current with most of our financial obligations," said Mike. "In the last few weeks we've almost managed to re-coup our early season losses. But we're still in over our head for the seasonal end — which is due Sunday night."

AFTER THE DEMISE of the Palm Springs Playhouse following its third production of the year and the closure of Martin Beck's Playhouse to make room for films at El Paseo Theater, the Ferralls find themselves in the fairly envious position of being the only theater in town.

"It wasn't all good news," said Marrian. "We had the same problem most of the businesses in town had. Poor weather keeps theater-goers away just like it keeps vacationers away."

Despite that, such name stars as Imogene Coca and King Donovan, Pamela Britton and Jack Cassidy, Evelyn Rudie, Jody McCrea, John Newton, Susan Silo, Stephen Roberts, Edward Everett Horton, Robert Minford, and Vivian Vance and John Emory came to town to play in the Ferrall productions. Right now, George Montgomery is starring at the theater.

THE REASONS THAT the Ferralls failed to remain solvent this season are fairly basic in stock companies. They could be itemized thusly:

1—The local theater is in the unique position of being one of the few professional theaters in the United States that draws no city support or private subsidization for its efforts. (In fact, for the third consecutive year, the Ferralls in 1960 provided the sum total of their theater's financing.)

2—The Ferralls had to build — by now a monotonous task since they had done it convincingly at their former location — a theatre in what had once been a very stylish barn and health club.

3—No supporting organization — such as the once high-powered Playhouse Guild — was available to them to do the job of promotion and organizational seat sales. (The "Opening Night Dinners" was a start in this direction and a more encompassing plan to increase this facet has been under-going organization.)

THE FERRALLS ARE somewhat stymied at this juncture. They don't know whether to call it all off or attempt to come back for another try.

If what I've heard is correct, they may not have cause to worry at all. There has been a general undercurrent of concern in dramatic circles here all week. What happens next might be one of the most exhilarating off-stage dramas ever staged anywhere.

"PLEASE DON'T EAT THE DAISIES" is the cry of Chuck McDonald, shown protecting them from Anita Canning and Michelle Ailor in front of Chuck Walters Presents. Walters is the director of the movie version of the best seller by Jean Kerr, which ended a long run Monday night at the Plaza Theater. The movie broke all box office records at New York's Radio City.

PSHS Sets Elections On May 5

By MARALEE MORRIS
Election time has come to Palm Springs High School once again. This past week students have been registering to be eligible to vote. Elections will be held May 5.
Last week was also Science Week at PSHS. The entire week was devoted to the Science Club which presented various science displays around the campus. Members also presented an assembly in which Capt. Jeans from March Air Force Base spoke about the effect of space travel on human beings.
On Thursday PSHS Junior and Senior boys attended an assembly given by the armed forces. Members of the Army, Navy, and Air Force spoke about careers in the armed forces for high school boys after graduation.

IN A SPECIAL TRIP, MOST REVEREND Bishop Charles Buddy of San Diego paid a visit to Palm Springs last Sunday to bless the new communion bench and altar of Our Lady of Solitude Catholic Church. ### Funeral Slated Tomorrow for Frank Owensby

Funeral services for Frank C. Owensby, 40, Rialto, who was fatally injured in an accident on Dillon Road at 11:40 p.m., Sunday, will be conducted at 1 p.m., Thursday, from the Mark B. Shaw and Company chapel, with the Latter Day Saints Church of San Bernardino in charge.
Interment will be in Mt. View Cemetery in San Bernardino. Wiefels and Son Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.
A native of Oklahoma, Owensby has been a resident of San Bernardino County for 30 years. A plasterer, he had been working in this area for the past week out of Local No. 73, Plasterers Union of Riverside.
Survivors include his widow, Muriel; two sons, Timothy and Thomas; one daughter, Teresa, all of Rialto; two brothers, Carl and Claude Owensby, both of Colton; and two sisters, Eva Greer of Barstow and Elsie Owensby of Colton.

5 STUDENTS GAIN BOYS' STATE ROLES

Four Palm Springs high school boys and one Desert Hot Springs student have been named delegates to the 23rd annual Boys' State at Sacramento, June 18-25, under the sponsorship of the American Legion.

Palm Springs delegates are Kenyon Bruckner, David Simon, and Mike Hart, with Mike Francisco alternate delegate.

MIKE KRAFT, ALSO a Palm Springs High School student, will represent Desert Hot Springs.

Boys' State, a national American Legion program, is designed to encourage interest in governmental processes, and increase boys knowledge of governmental

You See Who's Getting Burned

Catholicism--Draft-Dodging

CHARLESTON, WEST VIRGINIA — As the story goes, novelist William Makepeace Thackeray, candidate for Parliament, met his rival on election day with the ensuing dialogue:

Rival: May the better man win.

Thackeray: Gad! I hope not! Maybe the same thing is being said, with different application, by Presidential Candidates Humphrey, Symington, Stevenson and Johnson as regards the West Virginia Democratic primary election. With no "maybe" whatever, the better man in this two-horse race is Senator Jack Kennedy. He is in serious danger of being defeated, or held to a scant majority, by an inferior man, Senator Hubert Humphrey.

A PERSON HIGH in the Kennedy councils told this reporter that about 20 per cent of West Virginians would vote against Jack for no other reason than his Catholicism. Assuming that another 10 per cent might like Humphrey for numerous reasons, it means that Candidate Kennedy must make an impressive showing from the remaining 70 per cent.

Nobody can visit, as I have just done, four West Virginia towns — Clarksburg, Fairmont, Charleston, Bluefield — and conclude anything except that Kennedy's religion now tops every other issue. It may be said that, working in mysterious ways, this two-horse primary can eliminate two horses which could not in any event win the Presidential sweepstakes.

BUT NEVER MIND! Here is an instance, in the narrow alleys and gullies of West Virginia, where a fine young American, by common consent the superior of his rival, is in peril of losing, or of winning scantily, because of religious prejudice.

This isn't good — and yet we should try to understand it. This primary election is best described as a respectable roughhouse. It is respectable because the two principals, Kennedy and Humphrey, have been circumspect, although pugnacious. It is respectable because prejudice itself is an honest emotion which is indulged in for the most part by simple, sincere folk — although often exploited by sophisticated, villainous ones.

I WAS ABLE, BY discreet footwork, to maneuver a minor functionary of the West Virginia Council of Churches into a don't-quote-me discussion of this veritable subject. Why do so many Protestants, although preferring Kennedy, intend at this writing to vote for Humphrey?

Well, centuries ago, there was a Reformation which established Protestantism. The reason for it was Rome's interference in local politics and private lives all over West Europe. This remembrance is deeply embedded in the creeds and teachings of the "fundamentalist" sects.

THE IDEA THAT Catholics are "different" is perpetuated by Catholic practices. Protestant parents see that Catholic children are segregated by their Church into other than public schools. Protestants find that, in holy rituals of marriage and baptism, Catholics tend to exclude Protestants from roles of importance. Protestants observe in many ways that the Catholic Church enters more into mundane activities and decisions than do the Protestant Churches.

Right or wrong, non-Catholics feel that there is a mystique to Catholicism which does not remain behind the church door. Religion is a personal matter, and under the Constitution does not disqualify anybody from public office. But prejudices can not and should not be outlawed. There is nothing shameful in a voter's feeling that religion should be part of his complex decision in choosing a President of the United States.

ANOTHER PERSONAL matter is being used by the Kennedy camp in trying to defeat Hubert Humphrey. Senator Kennedy himself is making reference to his war service, and to that of his killed-in-action brother, Members of the Kennedy party in West Virginia are now sporting PT Boat lapel buttons. These depict not merely Jack's memorable World War II service — but call attention to the fact that Humphrey was a wartime stay-at-home.

Is not this an appeal to prejudice? And are not West Virginians, a fiery and patriotic race, just as privileged to be disgruntled with draft-dodging as with Catholicism?

Democracy, a human institution, is very folksy about such things.

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

Last week I made a solemn vow
To lay off talk of PDT.
But I've just got to tell you now
How PDT bamboozled me.

Anyway, Saturday evening I said to Mrs. G:

"We mustn't forget to change our clocks tonight. I'll keep my watch on standard time. This isn't going to be a complete, unconditional surrender, you know."

So we went about our usual Saturday evening beach activities.

THERE WAS the good, smooth, melodious pre-dinner music by Lawrence Welk via TV.

Then the Whodunnits — Coronado 9, Perry Mason, topped off by San Francisco Beat with dessert.

Mrs. G couldn't take them all and, after putting around the house briefly, retired to her room with a novel.

I guess I doted during the silent commercial.

BECAUSE I awakened bewildered.

"Musica slept an hour," I mumbled. "Ten o'clock."

Took off my shoes so as not to disturb the actual head of the household (although the census taker, with a rare sense of humor, listed me as such) and moved every clock in the house up to 11.

Satisfied because I remembered went to bed to listen to the soothing sound of the rain. Yes, it rained Saturday night at the beach.

SUNDAY MORNING I woke up with a start.

"Wow, 8 o'clock. Better get going. Lots to do. Couple paper clips to get that return bar on the typewriter back in action and refasten the "I" key with Scotch tape."

It was light and the rain had blown away. The sun was just peeping over the horizon, twice as big as normal and red-faced.

RED FACED because it's an hour late, I muttered.

"Look at that! Eight o'clock and the sun's just coming up."

And went into another fulmination against PDT.

Called it PDDT. You know what that extra "D" is for.

Called to Mrs. G to tell her it was 8 o'clock.

"ARE YOU CRAZY?" she asked in an unwelcome manner. "It's only 7, suntime, and only 6 standard."

"No, it's 8 o'clock," I insisted. "Every clock in the house says so except my watch. You're going to be late for morning church."

"You should concern yourself about getting to church," she said in a tone I ignored, blaming it on to the early hour.

"LET'S LOOK at that watch of yours," she sensibly said. It's on standard time."

We did. It was 6:07 PST.

"Did you move up the clocks last night?" I asked with a sudden suspicion.

"Yes, while you were snoring in your chair."

So I had to go and move them all ahead 11 hours because it is bad to move a clock's hands backward.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Old Man River

The Delta Queen, last of the Mississippi passenger boats, carries some 200 passengers on various cruises during the summer season.

She rides Old Man River with no roll, no pitch (An ideal boat ride; you could not get seasick if you tried.)

There are daily games — bingo is our favorite. The food is excellent. And we sleep like lambs.

what. I said "That's back on the stern, lady." She said "What you mean, man, talking that kind of language to me?"

"I says to her 'Lady, I'm sorry if I offended you. I was speaking of the boats stern and nothing personal was intended. I reckon she thought I meant HER 'stern. You can't please everybody. IM-possible."

THE DELTA QUEEN makes a number of stops. Some scheduled, some apparently at the whim of Captain Underwood.

She nudges into the bank, pointing upstream. The paddle wheel turns over just enough to keep her there. "We draw about seven feet of water," said the Captain.

A COUPLE of deck hands jump off dragging a hawser. They run the hawser around a tree. Slip a bight of the standing part through the eye. Run a thick steel bar through this loop. And run a gangplank out to the shore.

There is a ship-to-shore telephone in the pilot house where the pilot works the two - tiller steering system and the engine room telegraph.

The river is as neighborly as your own backyard.

"WA 4141 CALLING anybody at Paducah," says the Captain. "Honey, will you call that laundry? Tell em we gonna be in about 4 o'clock and bring down my shirts."

At 4 o'clock we tie up to a tree. The laundryman brings down the shirts. The hawser is cast off the tree. The deck hands leap from the retreating stage, hung from a boom over the shore.

"Hurry it along now, Bob," says the Captain. "Get on or get left."

The Delta Queen backs into the river with the steam calliope playing "Dixie."

COVERING EIGHT acres, it's strictly the dream of an old-time movie star. Example: the two huge drawing-room chandeliers, a gift of the late William Randolph Hearst, cost $3,000 apiece. Similar expensive trappings are spread through the 30 - room house. Having attended many a party at the Lakes' lean-to, I would like to buy those light fixtures myself — if I had a drawing room measuring 60 feet from floor to ceiling.

Libby Jones's explanation for turning from striptease to serious acting: "I didn't want to be just another busty actress who worries about her career every time she catches a cold."

LOS ANGELES — Shapely actress Greta Thynsen, explaining why she shoved a traffic officer who arrested her:

"He was too close for comfort when he handed me a ticket. I thought he was going to kiss me when he bent over me."

NEW YORK — Roger M. Blough chairman of the U. S. Steel Corp., stating that 1960 was never destined to be the boom year some people expected:

"Let's just call it an average year, but the best average year we may ever have."

NEW METAL shop building at Palm Springs High School was formally dedicated last night, with Harry Williams, architect, presenting the building to Roland Valle, president of the school board.

Because so many residents will be absent during the summer months, the planning commission will again declare a summer holiday on zone applications and variance petitions.

The desert estate of Mr. and Mrs. William Klingler, considered one of the most beautiful in Palm Springs, has been purchased by Major and Mrs. Reuben H. Fleet.

Agua Caliente Band of Missions Indians has been granted permission by City Council to dig a ditch diagonally across the intersection of South Indian Avenue and Ramon Road, to lay a 16-inch water pipe line. This will be a portion of the Indians' new line from Tahquitz Canyon to the Agua Caliente Reservation in the Village.

That Palm Springs people are definitely interested in protecting highway approaches to the Village from objectionable billboards and other landscape blemishes was forcibly demonstrated Tuesday when a delegation of some 25 persons appeared before the county planning commission at Riverside.

The new lighting system has been installed in the arch at Cathedral City. There are five 100 watt lights, one on each tower. This will be a beacon for the whole western end of Coachella Valley, comparing favorably with the tower at El Mirador Hotel. The whole system is regulated by clock work.

People...Places...Things...

NEW YORK — People . . . Places . . . things . . .

Edward Capastany, who teaches philosophy at St. Martin's College, Olympia, Wash., gives us an insight into the younger Fidel Castro. They lived together for several years while attending a Jesuit boarding school in Havana:

"We had a sort of (aps bs) Boy Scouts group to explore in the jungle during holidays, directed by Fr. Amando Llorente, S. J. We camped in the mountains, explored caves, hiked, climbed peaks. Well, whenever there was something outstanding and crazy to do, such as taking a rope to the other side of a swollen river, there went Fidel."

"I DIDN'T GO with him the summer our group explored the Sierra Maestra, where he was to gain his fame. But Fidel was one of the top boys on that exploration trip."

"Fr. Llorente tried to make tough men out of us. I remember outstanding memory and his thorough knowledge of history, especially his interest in the French Revolution. And the inevitable effect his interests had on all of us."

"CASTRO IS LIVING two centuries ago. He is of the time of Rousseau. Maybe this is the explanation why he is so indulgent with the Communists . . . He would still be up in the hills if Batista had not murdered ordinary people as a means of 'getting even' with Castro. The people of Cuba were not fighting against Batista. They were fighting against Batista. They accepted Castro because they were desperate, and would take anything in preference to the man in power.

"He is weaker than he thinks. He must bluster and bluff and make his anti-American speeches because he knows he is lacking. He is bossed."

"He wouldn't have the guts to fire the Guevara or any of the other reds around him."

BILL CUNNINGHAM, the Boston sports columnist and political commentator who died of cancer the other day, was one of the last of a diminishing breed of newsmen whose beat knew no confines within his newspaper. He would jump from a heavy weight championship fight to a political convention, from a memory - piece about his days as piano accompanist of tent - pitching Eventists such as Herman Rodenhaver to a Ringing radio denunciation of some phase of the New Deal. Cunningham had immense range. He was positive about all his subjects and thus able to write with compelling vigor. Once he saw a fighter knock himself out — his glove bounced off his opponent's glove, came back and hit him on the chin — but nobody else at ringside saw it. That didn't deter or shake Bill.

HE WAS SOMETHING of a rarity in sportswriting in other respects, too: He became the country's stop-salaried sportswriter. And, remarkably, he was an athlete. Walter Camp chose Dartmouth man Bill on his All America in the days when Camps word in such matters was gospel. Bill coached S. M. U. years ago while writing sports in Dallas.

Like his friend Damon Runyon, Cunningham underwent the removal of a malignancy in his throat, and spent his last years silenced. There was jubilation among his Boston friends that he had licked the shocking disease by means of this surgery.

BUT WHEN I SAW him a year ago, as we headed for a plane that was taking us to Cairo, he pulled out his little pad of paper and — for openers in the first "conversation" we had since the operation — calmly jotted, "I am dying of cancer. It has its compensations. Now there is no reason not to tell the truth."

He had attached a little rubber-bulb horn like Harpo Marx's to the fine walking stick which he carried with magnificent dignity. When I had read the breath-taking note, he honked it gayly and grinned.

They don't make Elijah William Cummings very often, and almost never any more in the newspaper game.

THE TV NETWORKS are deep in the cloak and dagger business of trying to score a scoop in bringing to the panting American televisioner the first films or video tape of the wedding of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones. There hasn't been anything like it in network circles since the mad rush to get the Coronation of Elizabeth II to U. S. screens — an adventure that included the use of jet bombers, a flying photograph dark room, and an effort to bounce the pictures off the moon.

Suggestion: Why not have one of Antony's beatnik friends fly over with the print?

SMC Luncheon Fetes Angeleno Bridge Club

By JEAN PATANE
Friday, April 22, Mrs. Fred Franklin hosted luncheon at the Shadow Mountain Club for members of her bridge club from Beverly Hills and Westwood. Guests, who were in the desert for the weekend, included Mrs. Ollie Selzer, Lillian Kleckner, Ruth Felix, Dinitia Wagnerseller, Eva Metty, Olive McGirr, Walter Henke, who is visiting from St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Harrison Rhoads, who is spending a month in Palm Springs, and Mrs. Edna Value of Palm Desert. The visitors were houseguests of Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Rhoads.

Mrs. Lavonne Johnson and daughter, Cookie, are making their home at Rancho Mirage Hotel Apartments where Mrs. Johnson is now resident manager at the well known desert motel. Another daughter, Marcia Morris, who is attending San Paequal Academy at Escondido, will join them at the end of the school term.

Here for the weekend visiting with Mrs. Pearl Miller were her daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Jack Warr, who make their home in San Diego where he is stationed at the Naval Base as chaplain.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Farr, who spent a week in Newton, Iowa, during Easter, returned to their Rancho Mirage home last Friday. That afternoon his father, A. L. Farr and his sister, Mrs. Adele Griffin and son, David, arrived from Napa and are houseguests of the Glen Farris. Before leaving for Iowa Mrs. Farr was at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Matter in Los Angeles for the arrival of their third grandchild, another little girl named Tracy Ann Matter who was born April 6.

Desert Circus weekend guests at the Whispering Waters Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lenz of Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Petrucci, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Poore, Mr. and Mrs. D. ### Spellazas Mapping European Vacation

By ELLEN SAUNDERS
An exciting European vacation is in store for the Ted Spellazas. On Tuesday, accompanied by two Burbank couples, their cousins, the Pete Calandros, and Spellazas brother and sister-in-law, the Michael Spellazas, they planned to New York where they later transferred to Pan American for the flight to London. After touring England they will fly to Hanover, Germany, where they will pick up a Mercedes Benz prior to embarking on a motor tour of the continent.

Among the bon voyage parties given in their honor was a dinner hosted by the Charles Spinks in their Palm Springs home. Guests included the Cliff Babins and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hulbert of Desert Hot Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Cracraft of Palm Springs.

The Rev. Herbert J. Cook, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, flew to Cleveland, Ohio, on Monday, for a month's vacation. The Reverend Cook will attend a class reunion at St. Mary's Seminary, from which he was graduated 25 years ago.

Mrs. Clarence M. Bartusch and daughter Jan returned on Friday from a two week motor trip to Clarksville, Ark., where they were the guests of Mrs. Bartusch's father, Hugo P. Cook. Shortly after their arrival they were joined by Mrs. Bartusch's brother, Del J. Cook of Whitefish Bay, Wis. Mrs. Bartusch reported that excellent weather and the beauty of the azaleas and dogwood which were in full bloom, combined to make the trip a very pleasurable one.

On Saturday Mrs. Bartusch's cousin Mrs. Elsie Alexander planned in from Deland, Fla., to spend a few weeks.

Mrs. William C. Barr of Berkeley, arrived on Thursday to spend ten days with her mother, Mrs. Charles Meadows. Mrs. Barr is the mother of three young daughters each of whom excels in water skiing.

Sy Burcutt, owner of the Burwood Lodge, is suffering from some cracked ribs — the aftermath of a recent automobile accident. Currently the Burwood is playing host to an eastern foursome, Mr. and Mrs. William Weinheim of Jamaica, N.Y., who are on a two week vacation, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Shiffman of New York City. Other guests at the lodge include Mr. and Mrs. V. Golden of Vancouver, B. C., and the Morris Niernbergs of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stetson received word on Thursday that their son Mitchell, who is enroute to Ankara, Turkey, had arrived in London, where he will spend a few days. Mitchell will work as a field superintendent in the oil fields near Ankara for the next 12 months. During the past few years he has held similar position in Australia and New Zealand.

Friends of Mrs. Louis Catalano will be glad to know that she is making a good recovery from the emergency surgery which was performed last Wednesday night at Desert Hospital.

Shirley Temple Charities, Home Her Life at 32

By PETER J. HAYES
ATHERTON, Calif. (UPI) — Sometimes for a birthday party or other special occasion, home movies are shown at the Charles A. Black house.
But Mrs. Black doesn't watch.
"I've seen them too many times," she said. "Also, they give me a funny feeling."
The feeling stems from the fact that the movies all feature Mrs.
Black. They were made some 20 to 25 years ago when her name was Shirley Temple and she was Hollywood's biggest box office drawing card.

SHIRLEY EARNED a fortune estimated at between three and five million dollars as the dimpled moppet with blonde curls who sang and danced her way into the hearts of millions of such hits as "Little Miss Marker," "The Little Colonel," and "Heidi."
She made 32 movies, 25 between the ages of 4 to 10; her popularity saved the old Fox studios from financial disaster; her fan mail amounted to 2,000 letters a day, and she was mobbed by souvenir hunters who snipped off her curls as keepsakes.

TODAY — NOW 32 — all that is different. Shirley is the devoted wife of a handsome, dark-haired electronics executive and mother of three lively children. She lives with her family in a sprawling California ranch — style home in this exclusive community 30 miles south of San Francisco. She is frequently pictured in newspaper society pages in connection with her many volunteer activities.
Shirley turned her back on Hollywood when she married Black in 1950, 10 days after her divorce from actor John Agar became final.

TWO YEARS AGO Shirley emerged from retirement to do the "Shirley Temple Storybook" series of televised fairy tales. That completed, Shirley will begin work soon on a new TV project.
"I won't do any more movies unless they're made up here," she said. "The minimum time it would take to do one in Hollywood would be eight weeks and that would mean no home life. I only had to spend three days a month on the "Storybooks."
As a popular young society matron Shirley exhibits the same vivacious personality that made her an entertainment phenomenon of the '30's.

SHE MEETS strangers with a friendly smile that lights up the familiar dimples at each corner of her mouth. As a child star she was noted for being unspoiled and this warm friendliness carried over into adulthood.
Pettie Shirley still has a cherubic face and trim figure. She wears her soft chestnut hair shoulder-length, although this is subject to change.
As a mother Shirley tries to treat Susan, 12; Charles Jr., 8, and Lori, 6, with the same mixture of love and firmness that she received from her parents.

SHIRLEY DOESN'T appear over-eager for her youngsters to go into show business. In any event she won't push them.
As for young Charles, he "loves school" and wants to be a doctor.
He has a 97 per cent scholastic average, she said.
"I don't think this country needs any more actors, but we do need more scientists," she said.
Shirley's typical day begins at 6:45 a.m. when the family rises and has breakfast.

HER HUSBAND frequently takes a quick swim in the family pool before leaving for work at the Ampex Corp., in nearby Redwood City.
After seeing him and the children off, Shirley goes to work on her many activities. A housekeeper handles most of the domestic duties.

Each Monday morning she helps out as receptionist at the Children's Health Council for Mentally and Physically Retarded Children.

AND THE FIRST week of each month she is busy with meeting of the Allied Arts Guild, which sells art goods on behalf of the Stanford Convalescent Home; the Peninsula Children's Theater, and the Women's Auxiliary of the local Society for Crippled Children and Adults.
She also is chairman of the local Multiple Sclerosis Society. Her brother, George, 41, contracted the disease seven years ago and is confined to a wheelchair.

THE THEATER group is composed of San Francisco Peninsula housewives who stage productions for children. Shirley doesn't act in any of them, declaring, "I like to preserve my friendship with friends on a non-acting basis."
She serves in such chores as ticket-taking or ushering or public relations.
When she isn't doing social work
Shirley is tending to such personal business as reading scripts or passing on samples of Shirley Temple dresses that are sent to her for approval before being mass produced. Daughter Lori models these for her and Shirley even runs them through the clothes washer to make sure they don't shrink.

PERHAPS HER favorite hobby is interior decorating. She decorated the home in an Oriental motif against beige backgrounds.
Through friends who run a nearby interior decorating shop Shirley has taken outside assignments as a decorating consultant.
Such jobs are carefully screened, however, ever since one woman asked Shirley to come over and advise her. When Shirley arrived she found the woman and half a dozen of her neighbors on hand for a "coffee klatch" starring Shirley Temple.

THE BLACKS do no nightclub-bing in nearby San Francisco.
Their social life consists largely of attending symphonies or opera (not as first nighters) and going to the exclusive Menlo Country Club to play bridge or dominoes with friends.
They go to few movies. They watch television a lot, and have a portable set in the bedroom. Shirley's favorites: Dinah Shore, Art Carney, "Peter Gunn."
She also reads a lot, keeping up with most of the best sellers.
WHILE SHIRLEY achieved her greatest fame more than 20 years ago she is still remembered by the fans. She gets about 200 fan letters a week.
Will there ever be another Shirley Temple?
"I would hope not," she said.
"Just as I think there should never be another Bing Crosby or Betty Grable. It is much better for an actor to be himself.
"Also, I think that the times —
the depression period — had a lot to do with my success. People were looking for something to cheer them up. I always thought that Rin Tin Tin and I were examples of this."

COLLEGE CHEATS EXPOSED ON TV

The shocking and unethical practice of some college students in hiring others to take examinations, write term papers and prepare theses for them is examined in
"Dishonor System" on "Armstrong Circle Theatre," Wednesday, April 27 on the CBS Television Network
(10-11 p.m.).
The story begins on the campus of a large midwest college where one of the students arranges to engage the "Carlton Literary Service" to write his term papers — for a fee. The ghost writer assigned to do the work eventually leaves the agency's employ and another freelance writer is delegated to take over.

When the new writer learns the nature of the work, he is shocked and reports his findings to the District Attorney. He is advised to accept assignments and gather as much information as he can.
When enough evidence has been amassed, the district attorney's men raid the agency and apprehend all those involved.
"Dishonor System" was written by Jerome Coopersmith, William Corrigan directs and Robert E.
Costello is the producer. Douglas Edwards is the host-narrator.

Linker Family Visits Tar Lake

The traveling Linker family leaves Port of Spain to visit the country areas of the island in "The Lake of Tar" on "Wonders of the World," Wednesday, April 27, 7:30 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.
Hal, Halla and David stop at an orchid farm to see the varieties of blooms and then explore the Lake of Tar to film the steps taken in processing the raw pitch into usable tar.

New Joke For Fans Of Rafaela

By RAFAELA MARMOLEJO V

It looks like there were these two ladies, que estaban trabajando, (that were working) for a lady that owns un perro que se llama (a dog by the name) of Wags... going home at the fin del dia (end of the day), they were recollecting to see if they had done todo (everything) they were supposed to... when suddenly one asks the other... "Do you remember en donde dejaste (where you left) the Wax?"... "Yes"... answers the other... "under the sink." Under the sink? grito sorprendida (yelled surprised) the first... "yes, don't you usually leave it there?"... "no, she told us to leave him outside"... contesto la primera (answered the first)... "Well, I guess we have to go back and leave la cera (the wax) outside" said the one... "The Wax?"... I was talking about Wags the dog?...

RAMONA VELASQUEZ Castillo... de esta ciudad (of this city) was hospitalized last week... as of today Jueves (Thursday)... she was un poco (a little) better... We hope by now you are ready para verse a casa (to come home).

Senor Juan Perez y su esposa Lupe de Tulare and Palm Springs were in Tulare for a fin de semana (weekend)... Senora Perea llamo su familia (called her family) before leaving here... Little did we know what was in store for her and senor Perez... Their family had gotten together to surprise con una comida (with a dinner)... the seven daughters and one son were anxiously waiting for their arrival, finally los miraron (they saw them) coming and turned all the lights off... Lupe and Juan walked to the door and were they surprised al encontrar (to find) all their family together... The daughters and husbands were Mary Ramirez and her husband Salvador from Santa Clara, Calif., Nadine Aguayo, Virginia and Baudelo Macias, Carol and Manuel Alvarez, Lupe Frank, Arline and Rosa Perez... and their only son Jess Perez from San Jose, Calif., and 15 grandchildren... and Lupe and el senor Perez?... Just happy!

LA FIESTA Primavera! (the Spring Fiesta) will take place este ano (this year) el 8 de Mayo (the 8 of May) in the Playhouse... there will be a prime rib dinner... asi como (as well as) Mexican food... so treat your mother to a Mother's Day dinner y baile (and dance) after la comida (the dinner)... no se le olvide la fecha... (don't forget the date!)... Y... hasta Luego!

PORTMARNOK FOR MEN ONLY

International Tourney Is Really Tough Test

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press International
DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — The golf professionals from 30 nations who will compete in the International Golf and Canada Cup championships at Portmarnock, just outside Dublin, are going to have all they can handle.

This was discovered regrettably today by a band of 10 U.S. golf writers who flew in and then flew out over the windswept 7,000 yards of this course which juts out like a bandaged thumb into the turbulent Irish Sea.

Portmarnock is a man-eater and was not designed for boys like these.

There will be no account of personal exploits here. For Portmarnock, still as green as an emerald despite leaden skies, disposed of Old Fearless with the disdain it shows for the white-capped spume which sprays its implacable shores.

Let it be admitted that I spent a pleasant afternoon looking up at hares as big as baby kangaroos and admiring the golden yellow gorse, the saw-toothed marsh grass known as marram, the pale pink wild roses and the smoke blue Dublin mountains in the background.

Personally I haven't seen the ball yet.

Nor, it might be added, have most of my compatriots. One fellow who shall remain forever nameless in this damaged white space chopped himself out a 16 on a par three hole from a trap which looked like an inverted funnel. The octopus-tentacled marram took care of the remainder of them.

"I DON'T THINK," observed one ruddy-cheeked caddy who had a lot of ruddy cheek, "that any of you could hit the ground if you fell over."

But a lot of fine golfing fellows have found this course the same as vinegar and molasses.

In one tournament last year there were only two rounds under 80. And you can ask Willie Turnesa, the former U.S. and British amateur king, about it. For it was here that the gorse guillotined him in 1949 when he lost out to Max McCready in the final of the British Amateur.

Spahn Continues Mastery Over Cincinnati, 4-3

By MILTON RICHMAN, United Press International
Southpaw Warren Spahn is a cinch to wind up in baseball's Hall of Fame when he's through, and if it'll hurry things any, his Cincinnati "cousins" will gladly pay his fare there.

Ever since the 39-year-old Spahn has been in the National League, the Reds have paid plenty — and mostly through the nose.

As a matter of fact, no club has contributed more than Cincinnati to the veteran Milwaukee ace's superlative record of having won 20 games during 10 different seasons. Spahn's lifetime mark against the Reds is an almost incredible 54-20. That's a 730 percentage and pretty fancy pitching in any league, brother.

Braves and boosted them from fifth place to within 2 games of the top.

Del Crandall supplied the payoff blow with his first homer of the season in the 11th off lefty Jim O'Toole, who went the distance for the Reds. Gus Bell hit a two-run homer for Cincinnati in the third and that was the last hit Spahn yielded until the eighth.

THE CARDINALS knocked the Giants out of a first-place tie by beating them, 4-2, and the Dodgers defeated the Cardinals, 8-1, in other NL contests. The Pirates took over sole possession of first place when their game with the Phillies was rained out.

NCAA Ready To Discipline More Schools

ATLANTA (UPI) — The NCAA council, governing body of college athletics, was expected today to take disciplinary action against several schools for illegal recruiting or other rule violations.

Such action would come at the close of the council's annual three-day meeting here and would follow on the heels of a decision that the NCAA will no longer honor AAU suspensions until such time as the two nationwide athletic groups can reach an agreement on their rules differences.

The council has steadfastly refused during the past two days to identify the schools it has on the carpet. It has been unofficially reported that those in line for probation or lesser punishment include Indiana, Kansas, North Carolina and possibly Louisiana State.

Infractions committee chairman George H. Young, dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School, was closeted with the 18-member council both Monday and Tuesday and a spokesman inadvertently disclosed Tuesday that punitive action is expected.

NCAA executive secretary Walter Byers reported Tuesday that NCAA members were displeased with what they considered the "capricious and inconsistent manner" in which the AAU has been applying its suspension rules.

THE CARDINALS won their game from the Giants by hopping on former teammate Sam Jones for all their runs in the first inning. Ex-Giant Bill White tripled home two of the runs and Stan Musial and Wally Shannon each singled home one. Larry Jackson held the Giants to seven hits in posting his first victory. Willie Mays extended his hitting streak to 12 games with a fourth-inning single.

Lanky Don Drysdale set the Cubs down on four hits in halting a four-game Dodger losing streak. Drysdale struck out 10 in registering his third victory and aided his own cause with three hits. The Cubs didn't help themselves any with four errors, including two by former Dodger Don Zimmerman and one by losing pitcher Gene Hobbie, who failed to survive the third inning.

RON NICOL NAMED PRO AT SCARSDALE CLUB IN NEW YORK

Ron Nicol, assistant professional at the Palm Springs Golf Course, has been named pro at the Scarsdale Golf Course at Hartsdale, New York. It was announced today by Zell Eaton, Palm Springs Golf Course pro.

Nicol will depart May 1 to assume his new duties at one of the oldest golf courses in the country, built in 1896.

According to Nicol, he expects to return to Palm Springs this fall and continue his duties at the local course. In due time he hopes to establish permanent residence in the Village and enter his children in the local schools.

INDIAN WELLS HOSTS TOP TOURNEY Practice Starts Today In Annual Pow Wow

Practice rounds start today in the Third Annual Indian Wells Pow Wow golf tournament which will run through Saturday and be climaxed by one of the top social events of the summer.

Tonight, following the practice round by players, the management of Indian Wells Country Club will host a "Tribal Get-Together-Get-Acquainted" party at the clubhouse, with guest privileges given out by invitation.

THURSDAY MORNING the first round of the tournament will get under way with an 18-hole - Team best ball, added best ball of foursome.

The second round will be run on Friday, which will also be a team best ball and best ball of foursome.

SATURDAY the final round will be played — a team gross score with full handicap, and added the foursome gross score minus full handicap.

Saturday night is the Tribal dinner - dance under the stars on Lake Bing-Phil, with the costume being casual dress or western. Awards will be made to golfers at 8:15 p.m., dancing to Desi Arnaz Orchestra and special entertainment will include authentic Indian Dances by Arizona Indians.

London's Stock Booms as Result Rademacher KO

LONDON (UPI) — Once again, "candy kid" today because of his upset knockout over Peter Rademacher, American heavyweight.

The former candy - maker of Blackpool is receiving offers for big-money fights today instead of retiring from the ring, as previously contemplated.

London, the supposedly washed-up ex-British Empire champion, knocked out Rademacher of Columbus, Ga., Tuesday night with a left hook to the body in the seventh round before 10,000 delirious fans at Wembley Pool.

Rademacher, former Olympic champion and the 3-1 favorite, was on the floor for the third time when referee Ike Powell counted him out at 15 seconds of the seventh. There were two knockdowns in the sixth round. The American was bleeding freely from a gashed left brow at the finish.

London weighed 214 pounds; Rademacher, 203.

Art Wall Entered in Tourney of Champions

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Tournament of Champions officials today reported that Art Wall Jr., the 1959 "Golfer of the Year," telephone Tuesday to say that he expected to play in the eighth edition of the $42,400 event May 5-8.

FIGHT RESULTS

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Tony Crutty, 134, Pittsburgh, outpointed Johnny Rizzuto, 123, Erie, Pa. 8.
LONDON (UPI) — Brian London, 214, Blackpool, England, knocked out Pete Rademacher, 203, Columbus, Ga. 7.
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bobby Pena, 153, Mexico City, outpointed Jesse Jones, 146, Los Angeles, 10.
PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Denny Meyer, 151, Portland, Ore., defeated Eric Grubb, New York, 151, 10.

GOP ASSEMBLY TO EYE CANDIDATES

Palm Springs Republican Assembly today announced plans for a pre-primary meeting on Tuesday, May 17, when all candidates for assembly and congress on the Republican ticket will be offered an opportunity to give their qualifications and state their platform. At the same meeting, plans will be formulated on how to get out as large as possible for Vice President Richard Nixon, "to help show the country how the Republicans and the Palm Springs area feel about Richard Nixon for President."

Village Teacher To Participate in Science Institute

Mrs. Lucille Humphreys, mathematics teacher at Palm Springs High School, was selected to be one of 50 high school teachers throughout the nation to participate in the 1960 National Science Foundation Summer Institute, which is being held this year at the University of Southern California. The Institute is to be conducted on a six weeks basis from June 30 to July 29.

Applicants for the program must have had at least one year's experience in secondary school training, and be currently teaching half-time or more in a senior or junior high school. Selection of applicants was based primarily on the individual's need for additional courses in the subject field, and on a promise to give future service in secondary schools.

Mrs. Humphreys has taught in the Palm Springs High School for the past three and one-half years. She is presently teaching Algebra I and Mathematics I.

This event was decided by the board of directors of the local Republican Assembly at a special meeting in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce.

The group decided also to form a Nixon for President Club, made up of independents, Democrats, Republicans, and all other political opinions and beliefs.

Mrs. Billye Eisen, secretary, reported that the Assembly membership is nearing 400.

Slater Funeral Held in Chapel At Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — Funeral services for John Slater, 61, who owned the Tropics Motel, Desert Hot Springs, were held here in Beth Olam Chapel on April 19, with Rabbi N. V. Bergman officiating.

Slater, who had been a member of congregation Nove Sholem, Desert Hot Springs, was a past president of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, Sierra Madre, and a member of the Beverly Hills chapter of B'nai B'rith.

A native of Russia, Slater had lived in California since 1925, and in Desert Hot Springs a year before his death on April 14. He had operated a building supply business in Los Angeles prior to moving to the desert resort.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Eunice Slater, Desert Hot Springs; a son, David P. Slater, La Habra, and two grandchildren. Interment was in the Beth Olam mausoleum.

Dear Abby... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I am 36, a Master Sgt. in the Air Force, stationed in Alaska. I haven't been home in 8 months, but I'm due to get back in June.

I have a lovely wife (35) and three wonderful children. My problem is that my wife is an habitual "charger," and she never pays her bills. My Commanding Officer gets letters from disgruntled merchants and I'm hauled on the carpet for it. I've had to do some fast talking, believe me. I send my wife plenty of money, but she charges anyway and then disregards the bills. What should I do, Abby? My parents tell me to divorce her, but I hate to give up my children. What do you think?

DEAR EMBARRASSED: It's difficult to inform ALL the merchants back home while you are in Alaska, but make a stab at it. Write and tell them to close your wife's charge account. And when you get home, tell her she'll have to start buying things C.O.D. and P.D.Q.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for people who are considering divorce: The biggest heartache of my life came when my parents parted. I loved my Daddy so much but never got to see him except for a few hours now and then. If my parents had been in business and the going got rough they would have worked extra hard to save that business. Yet they didn't save their marriage because they didn't really try. Because of that I grew up without a Daddy. I missed him especially at my confirmation, graduation and at my wedding. "MRS. MARRIED FOR KEEPS"

Springtime Themes Club Luncheon-Bridge Party

Members of the Palm Springs Women's Club gathered at the Racquet Club on Monday for luncheon and an afternoon of bridge.

Adorning the table, laden with 19 wonderful prizes, was an enchanting mobile oriental centerpiece. In keeping with the affair's Springtime theme each luncheon table was decorated with roses and petunias in white and variegated reds, complementing the pink table linen in the main dining room.

Co-chairmen of the event were Mrs. Grace Steenberg and Mrs. William McCarty, whose committee was comprised of Mmes. Foster Simonsen, Natalie Greason, Stanley Jones, H. George Smith and Miss Hazel Gross.

Menu for the luncheon included chicken a la king in a potato next, green peas, spiced fruit, hot rolls and butter, beverage and strawberry meringue glaze.

Over 100 ladies attended the affair, proceeds of which were earmarked for the Palm Springs Women's Club's scholarship fund.

Hold Last Cotillion on Friday

The final Palm Springs Cotillion, under the direction of Edna and Jon Torronco, will be held at the Tennis Club on Friday evening, from 8 to 10:30.

The Cotillion is by invitation and the young ladies in their summer formals and white gloves and the young gentlemen will be received by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cones, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hale and Mr. and Mrs. George Berkey.

If your cake burns, remove scorched area with a grater and cover with a glamorous icing. If your cake falls, serve it as a pudding, heated, with a sauce.

If you spill grease on the kitchen floor, pour ice water over the spot immediately to harden it before it has time to soak in. Then scrape it off with a dull-bladed table knife.

Tells of Flight into Russia

Members of Coachella Valley Panhellenic are still talking about the talk which Margaret Ann Currin, personal secretary to aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran Odium, made at their last meeting.

Mrs. Currin described the experiences which she had when she accompanied Mrs. Odium to Russia.

When the invitation to visit Moscow was first extended by three Russian delegates to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale at the 1958 conference in Los Angeles, Mrs. Odium was to be allowed to fly in by private plane, and fly over Siberia. These promises were not kept. Mrs. Currin said. Instead, it took a year's time to get visas to fly in at all, even fully escorted by Russian aviators. Their reservation called for a first class private room with bath, a car and an interpreter, but when they arrived they found there were no private rooms, the plumbing was unpredictable, the rooms were bugged. In addition, their passports were confiscated on arrival and she said they were shadowed wherever they went.

They were allowed to see only the main streets and not the "next street back," where people still live in log cabins. On the streets they saw women in heavy shoes and babushkas, sweeping with crude brooms, or engaging in manual labor like spreading hot asphalt on roads. They were told that the women did this kind of work for choice.

The speaker showed them Russian cigarettes, three fourths filter, and told how department stores behind the iron curtain are still using the abacus instead of cash registers.

In contrast to the many backward practices, was the beautiful Bolshoi Theatre where the two American women enjoyed a fairy tale ballet.

Their last impression was not a happy one either, she said, for their plane was almost taken apart to search it for stowaways, before they were escorted out of the country.

Mrs. Edward C. Ruge, founding president, presented the slate of officers for next year, as follows: president, Mrs. James L. O'Reilly of Palm Desert and Mrs. John Vale of Rancho Mirage; vice president, Mrs. Gerald A. Foster of Palm Springs and Mrs. Cal Brown of Palm Springs; secretary, Mrs. Roland Richter of Palm Springs and Mrs. Francis Pruitt of Palm Springs treasurer, Mrs. George Ripley of Palm Springs and Mrs. Robert A. Ellsworth of Thermal; historian, Mrs. Robert E. Wagner of Rancho Mirage and Mrs. John T. Shea of Indio.

Mrs. Randall Henderson conducted the meeting which was held at Pinecraft. Hostesses for the luncheon, which had an Easter motif, were Mmes. Robert Ellsworth and Ross Cunningham.

Luncheon Celebrates Birthdays

A new kind of candles on the birthday cake (they kept re-lighting themselves after they had been blown out) caused much merriment at the luncheon party at Tennis Club which celebrated the birthdays of Mrs. Austin McManus and Mrs. Ed Robbin.

This luncheon, which has become an annual affair, celebrated the 81st birthday of Palm Springs' first lady, who is known affectionately as "Auntie Pearl." For her birthday party she wore a blue sheath with white lace embroidery.

It was a handkerchief shower and the two birthday celebrants received handkerchiefs of every size, color and description.

Guests included Mmes. Earl Henderson, Harold Bell Wright, W. B. Malouf, Herbert Carpenter, Edwin Fallgren, John Costello, Will Tevis, S. P. Manasse, Dick Edwards and her sister-in-law Fran Macleish.

Also: Hortense Murray, Prudence Coleman, Gerri Frederickson, Joan McManus, Helen Bowler, Jan King, Edna May Burton.

Fitzpatricks Planning for Trip to Europe

A European tour is being planned by the James Fitzpatrick family of 209 Burton Way. The Fitzpatricks have five children and two of the girls, Kathleen, who attends Colorado Woman's College, and Patty who is a graduate of the same College, will leave with their father, as soon as Kathleen arrives home from school. They sail aboard the Queen Mary in May, and Mrs. Fitzpatrick will follow in June, when their other children, Greg and Tony, who attend Palm Springs High School, and JoAnn who attends Nellie Coffman, are out of school. They will make the trip by jet and join the rest of the family in London.

Mills College Alumnae to Hold Pasadena Conference

The Southern California Mills College Alumnae will conduct an all-day conference on continuing education, Saturday, May 7, at the Huntington Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

Mrs. Albert Salvatori of Los Angeles is Regional Governor for Southern California. The Conference, held every five years, is under the auspices of the Los Angeles Mills College Club. The Mills College Alumnae Association consists of approximately 20 regional areas.

Four programs are carried out on a national scale by the branch clubs. First is fund raising for the college; second, recruitment of good student material or student referral; third, public relations; and the last and newest, continuing education.

The continuing education program, aimed at providing stimulating intellectual fare for alumnae, utilizes talents of outstanding faculty members as guest lecturers. Principal speaker at the May 7 session will be the new president, Dr. C. Easton Rothwell who will be making his first Southern California appearance.

Reservations must be made for the conference by May 2, with Mrs. Albert Salvatori, 3278 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, 5, or with Mrs. Fred Meyer, 414 North McCadden Place, Los Angeles since more than 350 are expected to attend.

Greek Orthodox Easter Is Celebrated at Luncheon

A beautiful party commemorating the Easter of the Greek Orthodox Calendar was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Vera Jones on Saturday. Guests numbering approximately 100 were invited from Los Angeles, Beverly Hills (Mrs. Jones' home city) and the desert area, although not all were able to attend.

The weather was cool, but the reception Mrs. Jones gave her guests was unusually warm and inviting. The house was resplendent with an abundance of roses from local friends and from others as far away as Los Angeles with anthurium from Hawaii adding to the decor.

Onion Bread

Try this change from garlic bread. Soften instant minced onion in an equal amount of lemon juice. Blend with soft butter or margarine and spread on French or whole wheat bread. Toast under a broiler or in a hot oven and serve at once.

As guests arrived they gathered around the poolside, where cocktails were served; after which the hostess with selected guests led an inspiring traditional musical procession to the attractive buffet table laden with gourmet food. Before partaking of the food, a special ritual blessing was sung and, as is customary at this Easter time, a golden platter with a small glass of wine was presented to the hostess, while her friends sang a Charischa of blessings and good wishes to her.

Following the main course, a most important attraction, as is usual at Mrs. Jones' parties, was the parade of colorful desserts of ten varieties prepared by Mrs. Jones from choice recipes of various countries representing practically the "League of Nations." Close friends carried these desserts, bowing to the guests and identifying each dessert.

After dinner, entertainment was furnished by Joseph Troop, an accomplished pianist, violinist and conductor. Mrs. Louise Vance sang a Russian Flower Song. Also, Mrs. Salva Treechie Paulice Grosi sang Italian operatic arias, including "Madam Butterfly" and "La Boheme."

The guests were then invited to dance, which they did in traditional style and elegance.

At the close of the party Mrs. Jones very beautifully expressed her appreciation for her special friends Antonia and Pat Putman, who assisted her in arranging the party. She also announced that at this season of the year this party is an expression of her friendship to all those present.

KUNKEL FUNERAL SCHEDULED TODAY IN WIEFELS CHAPEL

Funeral services for John V. Kunkel, 44 years of age, who died early Monday in Desert Hospital after an illness of 10 days, was to be held at 10 a.m. today, in the Wiefels and Son Chapel, with the Rev. James H. Blackstone, pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church officiating.

Kunkel, who lived in Palm Valley Trailer Village, Cathedral City, had been a resident of this community two and a half years. A native of Newark, N. J., he had lived at Fairbanks, Alaska, for 15 years where he had worked at Ladd Air Force Base prior to moving here. Kunkel was a painter for the Dutch Boy Painting Contractors firm here. He was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Frances Kunkel; a daughter Kay; a son, John, Jr., all of Cathedral City, and his mother, Mrs. Agnes Powers, of Newark. The family has requested donations to the heart fund in lieu of flowers for the funeral. Interment will be at Montecito Cemetery, San Bernardino.

Cleveland Man Attacks Family

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — An auto parts store operator attacked his four children and wife early today with a claw hammer, beating one of the children to death and critically injuring two others.

Walter W. Brass, 40, described by a neighbor as mild-mannered, attacked his family as they slept in their suburban Euclid home. He beat them over the head repeatedly with the steel hammer and then tried to commit suicide.

Air Traffic Rises

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — The volume of commercial air traffic in West Germany continued to rise during 1959, the Institute for German Industry reported.

A total of 3,800,000 passengers, 62,100 metric tons of cargo and 13,900 tons of mail were carried on a total of 200,186 scheduled and charter flights during the year. Compared with 1958, the volume of passengers rose four times.

Santos Caters Aerial Meals For Financier

Village Caterer Loads Two Meals For Flying Execs

the pleasant task of supplying food stuffs for Palm Springs' most elite parties, changed to a little more dramatic form of catering this weekend — supplying the food for both breakfast and supper for a dozen persons, aboard an airliner.

The plane which belongs to financier E. F. MacDonald was especially designed and built for the man whose business takes him all around the world.

HE HAS OFFICES in every major city in the United States, and in most of the countries of the world.

The plane, a Martin 404 (the same as TWA's 42 - passenger airliners) has been completely redone and has a bedroom, lounge, bar, telephone, Hi-Fi, radar, and is completely custom-made in the interior.

SANTO'S JOB was to furnish the food for both breakfast and lunch for the 12 persons who flew from Palm Springs to Dayton, Ohio, and New York.

The caterer said that he supplied the plane with scrambled eggs, ham, orange juice, coffee, and sweet rolls for breakfast; and filet mignon, baked potatoes, beans, salad, and dessert for supper.

DOCTOR OFFICIALS of the 10th anniversary postgraduate institute held last week in the Riviera Hotel with 200 Riverside, San Bernardino, and Orange county doctors attending, included, from left, Dr. Lowell A. Rantz, professor of medicine and associate dean and director of postgraduate medical education, Stanford University School of Medicine; Dr. Andrew O. Fitzmorris, Palm Springs, internal medicine and cardiology specialist, and member of the regional postgraduate committee; Dr. Robert M. Zweig, Riverside, chairman of the institute; and Dr. John R. Peterson, president of the Riverside county medical association which hosted the institute. The institute was presented by the California Medical Association and Stanford University school of medicine, in cooperation with the medical societies of the three counties. (Desert Sun Photo).

British Press For Extradition

HAVANA — UPI — British authorities pressed today for speedy extradition of two Americans accused of murdering a pleasure yacht skipper and hijacking his boat in a 20th Century piracy in the Bahama Islands.

The fugitives were caught late Monday night by a gunboat of the Cuban navy after the stolen craft, Muriel III, ran aground in shallow water between Rancho Veloz and Playa Panchita off Cuba's northern coast.

DHS Community Goal $3,000

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — James V. Pack, president of the Desert Hot Springs United Community Fund, has announced that the fund campaign drive will begin May 2 with a $3,000 goal.

Pledge cards for the campaign will be mailed to residents prior to the kick-off date.

Mrs. Leighton Nugent, campaign director, has asked organizations in the community to review the community importance of the United Fund to group memberships. "This is one place where the donors know what the total gift and effect will be," she said.

Other United Fund action at the meeting last week included adoption of the temporary by-laws, and acceptance of Don Lemanski as the Desert Hot Springs Boy Scout representative. Lemanski replaces Ted Spellaza who resigned the post.
